“ Roger and I were deeply saddened to learn of Richard’s passing. Richard was my cousin. I have fond memories of when we were kids, spending many weekends at his grandmother Helen’s house, staying up late to watch the Friday night wrestling, playing baseball in the backyard with neighbor kids and going to see movies like those with Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis. His mother, Alice, hosted Christmas Eve for many years. The family enjoyed each other’s company and the delicious food, especially the home made pierogies which Richard loved and which he recently told me he missed. He kept in touch with family after moving to Florida and then Georgia. Family was important to him. He also had a great sense of humor. A few months ago, I thought I was texting my son to ask him if he needed clippers to cut branches with but mistakenly texted it to Richard. He texted back “No, but thank you. I have a chainsaw.” He loved to laugh and have fun. When he went into the hospital this last time, Julie fought to stay with him even though it meant she would not be able to leave til he did, she said “I wouldn’t be anywhere else but here” . Julie was devoted to Richard and he to her. Our deepest sympathy, prayers and love go out to his wife Julie, his daughter and son, family and friends. Richard, rest in peace and know that we will never forget you.

Love,
Janet Dean

“ I will always remember my Dads laugh, his smile, and him singing little songs. He would always tell me "I love ya baby, and "I love you 25 cents worth". I'm gonna make you proud, I promise.
