“ Hi, I am so sorry to hear about Dustin's accident. I met Dustin a couple of years ago, at North Western. He taught my PLC class. At the time, I was traveling as a field service tech for Astec. Dustin, was an excellent instructor. He really "cared" about the students, and allowed me to complete some of my course material on-line, since I was traveling so often. As time went on, we became friends. We both shared a interest in "performance automobiles." Upon graduating our small class at Northwestern, both myself and another classmate were both hired at VW. Of the 1000's of applicants VW interviewed, we both were in the first 50 Maintenance technicians hired. I have no doubt, this was a result of Dustin's class we completed. Dustin and I continued our friendship via email. He was excited about the growth of the NW Technical programs. I myself considered Dustin a close friend. We shared a "passion" for performance automobiles. I will miss him greatly. My prayers are with his family. Dustin was very kind and caring. I would have attended his service, but I was just made aware of his accident. May GOD bless my "car buddy" Dustin and his family. Sincerely, Tony Bankston
