“ I love this man! He was a bulldog on the outside but had the sweetest and kindest heart on the inside! We were on a trip together with our spouse's and he and I got a chance to have a private conversation for about 30 min. And during this conversation he teared up and was telling me about his childhood. And from that moment on he felt like one of my siblings, of which there are 9! I could always trust that he was telling me the truth when we had future conversations! He had a deep love for his family. There will never be another Ed! This was one of the good guys! Love you, Ed! So sorry for your pain you endured throughout your lifetime, but am sure you had some great times as well! You will be missed!
