“ It seems like no matter how much one tries words just aren't enough at times like this but being human, we all keep trying. Words fail us at this time but our belief in angels sustain us. Just like the classic Alabama song says "there are angels among us".. I believe thatwith all my heart. Our loved ones never really leaves us but rather hovers close by for eternity. I hope the family can find some comfort in knowing Jenny will always be there with you & when times get rough if you listen closely you will hear her voice.

God bless you all & please know that you are in our thoughts & prayers.
