“ I remember every lesson he ever taught me. I remember not being able to keep up with him as he ran as fast as he could across two fields to get to my sister to drive her to the hospital. I remember looking up to him, being happy when he would come play with us outside. As an adult, we drifted apart, but he and my brother were there to help me move my family into a house. He drove me all night and all day the next day, all the way to Florida just to pick up my wife at the time who had a falling out with her mom. If I ever asked him for anything he did it. No questions and he dropped whatever he was doing to do it. We were there for you, Dad. We were there for you and tried to protect you the best we could. I love my old man and I hope you're proud of who I am.

“ I remember when we visited him at jail and talking to him and making sure he was ok. I also remember how he was always happy to see us he would smile real big and say your name.
